Reich Asks Voice

BONN — Authoritative diplomatic sources predicted today that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will ask for Western assurances that no decisions on Germany will be made at the planned "Big Four" meeting without consulting West German leaders. To achieve this, diplomatic quarters in Bonn lean to the belief the Chancellor may request that Britain, France and the U. S. permit him to send a special consultant to Lugano, Switzerland, which the Western powers have proposed as the site for a Foreign Ministers meeting.

TOKYO — Officials of the United Nations command declined comment today on the statement by Secretary of State Dulles that the Communists returned all allied war prisoners in their custody. Booz Endorses Plan To Create Board of Health

EMILIE, Sept. 8 — The Bucks County Board of Elections yesterday announced the question of a health board for the county will be decided by the voters at the Nov. 3 elections. If approved, conduct of the board would add a quarter mill to county taxes.

Oscar Booz, chairman of the health and sanitation committee of the Bristol Township Board of Commissioners, endorsed the proposal to create the new board.

"As a first-class township," he said, "Bristol has its own health department, but the vast influx of population in the area has created many health problems. A county department would be of great aid to smaller communities."

The board of elections also announced four Bucks County communities would have the opportunity to vote on permitting Sunday movies. They are Tullytown, Quakertown, Middletown and Warrington.

Health Board Plans Three-Fold Action On Sewage Odor

FERGUSONVILLE, Sept. 8 — The Bristol Township Board of Health is taking three steps in response to complaints of odors from the sewage plant under construction here, Charles G. Simpson, township health officer, announced today.

He said the board of health will order a bacteriological analysis of two uncovered lagoons at the plant, to see if they violate a state law against exposing untreated sewage.

The board will ask George A. Elias, district engineer of the state health department, if the Township of Falls Authority has permission to use the open lagoons, Simpson said, and it will ask the Authority to correct the condition.

The disposal plant serves homes in Fairless Hills. Fergusonville residents, through the Fergusonville Community Center, have protested to Bristol Township officials that the plant gave off offensive odors in the evening. The sewage lagoons are 100 feet long and 25 feet wide.

Boy Scout Dancers To Prance at School

L. MAKEFIELD TWP., Sept. 8 — Pennsbury High School gym will be the scene of a colorful program of authentic Indian dances today and tomorrow at 7:45 p. m.

The Munsee Indian Dancers of Allentown Explorer Post 222 will interpret the religious, the ritual, and the war dances and other types of dancing of some of the major Indian tribes.

One of the main features will be the Eagle Dance, performed by the Eagle Scouts costumed in eagle feathers. Indian braves will stalk the eagle who dances on the huge thunder drum. Symbolically, this dance portrays the hunting and the slaying of the eagle as the braves go out to obtain feathers for their war bonnets. The drum, measuring five feet across, is a hide-covered cylinder which was made by the Scouts.

Two other high spots will be the Kachina Doll Dance and the Apache Devil Dance. Both require elaborate costumes, which were made by the Scouts, as were all of their other costumes, drums, and equipment. In the Devil Dance, the "friendly spirits" wear white masks and an "evil spirit" dances clothed in black. This reflects an unusual mood for Indians.

There will be 20 other dances, including the Buffalo Dance, the Spear and Shield, the Hoop Dance, in which a brave exhibits unusual skill and dexterity as he dances in and out of a hoop. There will be skill dances such as the Cherokee Stop Dance, an early elimination contest, and the Omaha Grass Dance, which the Munsees call "the original" American challenge dance.

New Ordinance Adds Septic Requirement

PENNDREL, Sept. 8 — Residents of Pennel borough who plan to install new sewage units are now required to have a septic tank, as the result of an ordinance passed last month by borough council.

A sewage disposal permit must be obtained from Health Officer William McMath before any work is done. Each request for the $5 permit must be accompanied by a detailed plan of the proposed installation.

McMath calls the new ordinance, "Insurance that any sewage facilities that are installed are installed correctly." In clarifying the ordinance he said, "The ordinance applies only to sewage installation not to plumbing."

"The septic tank must be accompanied by either a cesspool or a field drain, whichever is practical." Permit Needed

Though it has been necessary for Pennel residents to apply for a permit before installing facilities, it has not been necessary for them to have a septic tank. A cess-

County Court Confiscates Gaming Funds

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 8 — Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite Friday during six forfeiture hearings in Quarter Sessions Court ordered $375, which was confiscated from gamblers, turned over to the County Treasurer George A. Krikory.

Two slot machines and seven cases of beer were ordered destroyed by Chief Deputy Sheriff William B. Lang.

District Attorney Willard S. Curtin presented the following petitions in forfeiture:

Seven cases of beer which were seized in a raid on the Fairless Works site Sept. 13, 1952, from Charles G. Anderson, 1367 Sellers street, and Charles Kelly, 779 N. 25th street, Philadelphia, who were selling it at 25 cents a can. Fairless Works Security Officer Jason Caldarazzi made the arrest during a raid at noon time.

Currency amounting to $27 was taken from Michael J. Connolly, Falls Township, Aug. 6, 1952, by State Policeman Keith R. Dane, of the Langhorne sub-station. Connolly, 1422 N. Corlies street, Philadelphia, pleaded guilty to lottery Sept. 12, 1952, in court here.

The sum of $127 was taken from Santo Anzalone, 1605 Farragut ave., Bristol. The money was seized March 27, 1952, in connection with a gambling and lottery arrest of the defendant.

Currency totaling $183 was taken from Henry Roth, 6 Bank street, Morrisville, on Oct. 5, 1951, in connection with a lottery and numbers writing raid by the Langhorne State Police.

Judge Satterthwaite returned $21 to Goniesee Harrington, 1344 N. 13th street, Phila., Harrington, the sole defendant to appear in court Friday, had $58 taken from him by Langhorne State Police Oct. 5, 1951. He testified $21 was his own money and the rest was for numbers' writing.

McDevitt Says He's Not Part Of Probe Group

The meeting between a group of Levittown homeowners and the Philadelphia director of FHA seeking information from official documents on Levittown construction specifications was scheduled in Philadelphia today, as previously announced, but not without the injection of an apparent last-minute squabble among the investigators.

According to Joseph Landow, 2 Lavender lane, Levittown, one of the complainants delegated by the Levittown Civic Association to investigate the facts and to report back to the association, three men were named to attend the meeting.

They were Duke Sloan, Jules Levin and Raymond McDevitt, the latter two being directors of the association.

Disassociates

This morning McDevitt wished to be disassociated from the meeting and the group in a statement which said, "I am in no way connected with Duke Sloan or any of his organization. I am very happy here in Levittown as are my neighbors. Our only complaint is the constant complaining that a very limited number are doing. I am sorry these few people have made the Lakeside section seem to do the grilling. Most of the people that I have talked to are perfectly satisfied and have not taken these DA tactics and mystery men so serious. I wish to clarify the facts to my friends and neighbors that I am not a part of those schemes and have no intentions of attending this meeting."

Asked to explain what others consider an about-face, McDevitt said he had been "busy" when Duke Sloan approached him on the subject of attending the meeting and he gave the press of work as a reason for asking Sloan to check back with him a week later.

"I was surprised to see my name mentioned, therefore," McDevitt said, "as one of those who would attend the meeting."

Duke Sloan confirmed that he

Police Chief Warns Levittown Youths

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 8 — A fight between two juvenile boys Sunday night in the Levittown shopping center prompted Chief John Walterick to warn teenagers that police officers will become more strict in dealing with youths who step out of line.

Patrolman Pasquale Cola broke up the fight and took one of the boys to a physician for treatment of bruises.

Chief Walterick said it is understandable that youngsters will be attracted to the bright lights of the shopping center. But they will have to behave, he warned.

The chief said many youths have been riding bicycles through the center and in Levittown's streets at night with no lights on the vehicles. He reminded that it was a hazardous practice in automobile traffic.

FIREMEN CALLED

Bristol Consolidated Fire Co. was called to the home of Anthony Raccagno, 906 Pond street at 6 a. m. today when a hot-water heater flared up, sending flames through the flue. Damage was confined to the heater.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol, Apr. 27, 1905. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

A new boiler of increased capacity is being installed at the carpet factory of William Henderson.

Improvements are in order in the Third ward. Frank Flinn is having a concrete walk laid the length of his home. Doron Green is having extensive improvements made to his house. Samuel Milner is having four houses built on the lot bounded by Locust and Mifflin streets. James Archer is having a barn erected on his premises.

The following persons were elected vestrymen of St. James' Church last Monday: G. M. Dorrance, James Wright, Mitchell Ancker, Louis Loechner, William H. Watson and Martin Percy. The Rector's warden is G. M. Dorrance, and the accounting warden, James Wright.

On Wednesday morning the pedestrians in the locality of Bath and Otter streets, Bristol, were treated to an unusual feat of climbing performed by William Kennedy, one of the overhead workmen of the Philadelphia, Bristol and Trenton Street Railway Company. The hazardous task of removing a flag rope, which had broken and become entangled among the electric wires below, and which was suspended from one of the tall poles at that corner, was executed with great skill and caused quite a little excitement among the numerous bystanders, many of whom expected to see the nervous little climber fall from his perilous position.

The man who loves to spend a day fishing successfully, will be glad to know that in a conference between William E. Meehan, State Commissioner of Fisheries and the Game and Fish Commission of New Jersey, plans have been completed for this season's shad hatchery work on the Delaware. The work is to be carried out jointly by Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the United States Government, as follows:

Pennsylvania furnishes the hatchery building and apparatus at Torresdale, which has been erected on a site donated by Philadelphia; the Government will collect and hatch the eggs and New Jersey will furnish the launch to convey them to the hatchery and subsequently transport the shad fry to planting beds in the Upper Delaware. These beds will be located at Belvidere, the Delaware Water Gap, Bushkill, Pond's Eddy and Calicoon, above Port Jervis.

had made the telephone call to McDevitt. He said McDevitt told him he would be unable to attend the meeting because the man he works for was away on vacation, but that he offered to supply an alternate if he were unable to attend when the time of the meeting rolled around.

"He didn't seem to be at all disturbed about it," said Sloan when McDevitt's statement was read to him.

Sloan Gave Name

Landow admitted he had secured McDevitt's name from Duke Sloan. "But the number is not paramount," Landow said. "I feel sorry for Duke that a fellow will tell him one thing on the 'phone and write something else. However, it's not important. There will be two or three people at the meeting. We all know that this is the sensible approach to find out what the score is and stop all the backbiting. There has been entirely too much guessing in the matter, without sufficient knowledge on the part of many people."

Congressman Karl C. King, who arranged the meeting with the FHA director and the Levittown homeowners, confirmed this morning that McDevitt's name was one of the three submitted as those who would attend the investigatory meeting if it were to be arranged.

When informed of what seemed to be a last-minute switch in the list of names, Congressman King asked to make a statement to clarify his position in the matter. The congressman's statement follows:

"Since my name has been carried in most of the publicity given to the charges against Levittown construction and my congressional office has arranged an appointment for a committee to inspect Levittown construction specifications in the Philadelphia office of FHA, it is assumed that I am taking sides in this controversy and they have urged me to state my position on the matter.

"When constituents ask me for assistance in contacting a Federal agency, I am glad to pass on to that agency the request and any accompanying information which comes to me, whether it be in the form of a complaint or a routine request for information. In this case there was a specific request for the complainants to have an opportunity to see specifications approved by FHA. This agency offered the opportunity and I was glad to consummate the appointment for such an inspection in the Philadelphia office.

Not 'A Judge'

"Such work is a regular part of a congressman's job, but I do not consider it the proper function of a congressman to act as a judge of the merits of complaints where facts can be determined by capable representatives of all parties involved in the controversy. A congressman is not a building inspector and therefore I have not ac-

No injuries and only slight damage resulted when automobiles operated by Frank Bechter, 53, of 1017 Elm street, Bristol, and Joseph H. Frederick, 19, of 3923 Belgrade street, Philadelphia, collided on Farragut avenue near Green lane, Bristol, Saturday at 10 p. m.

The mishap occurred as Frederick came out of a driveway with his vision obscured by a signpost, according to Patrolmen Peter Caro and George Shire.

Mrs. Mary Ruppert, of 2617 Martha street, Philadelphia, and Charles Milner, 19, of Eddington, were treated at Bristol General Hospital Sunday for injuries received in automobile mishaps. Details were not available.

Falls Township Police officers were kept busy Saturday investigating four motor accidents. Four persons were removed to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., with injuries sustained in the accidents.

On Saturday, at one a. m., an accident occurred on Ford Mill road, near Van Sciver Lake, when a sedan operated by Obbalio Cruz, 20, Trenton, N. J., sideswiped a passenger car operated by John White, 29, Trenton, N. J. The two men were arrested on charges of reckless driving. Damage to each machine was reported to be $25. Investigation was made by Gino Mattozzi.

At 11:10 a. m., Saturday, Juan Rosado, 23, Trenton, N. J., was operating a vehicle at Route 13, near Ford Mill road, attempting to make a turn into Ford Mill road, when his machine was struck by a car driven by Monserrate Colan, 29, New York, N. Y. Damage to the Rosado machine was reported to be $100 and Colan's, $250. Colan was arrested on charge of reckless driving. Sgt. Julius Meszaros investigated.

Patrolman Richard Schallix investigated an accident that occurred at 12:50 p. m. at Trenton avenue and Taft street, when a car operated by George Pakech, 24, Philadelphia, waiting to make a left turn into Taft street, when it was struck by a machine operated by John H. Peters, 42, Trenton, N. J. Damages were reported to be $25 to the Pakech machine and $50 to Peters. No injuries were reported. Peters was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

A fifth accident occurred at Emille road and Tullytown road, Martin R. Waters, 26, of 28 Sweetbriar lane, Levittown, was operating a passenger car west on Emille road when a car operated by Dennis Murphy, 17, 426 Chelsea road, Fairless Hills, came out of Tullytown road and struck the Waters machine broadside. Waters and Murphy were removed to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, in an ambulance of Union Fire Company, Morrisville. Following treatment the two men were released. Murphy was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

Farm Women Held On Weapon Charge

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 8.—Luville Patterson, 34, of Morrisville R. D. 1, and Elvira Mike, 34, of Kury's Labor Camp, Oriskany, N. Y., were held in $1,000 bail each last night by Trenton police on charges of carrying concealed weapons. Both are transient farm laborers.

Lucille Woodson, also of Morrisville R. D. 1, was released in $100 bail as a material witness.

The three women were stopped by Patrolman Richard Applegate at Bridge and Union streets, Trenton, when he noted their car driven by Miss Patterson was weaving dangerously.

When Miss Patterson opened the glove compartment of the car to locate her registration, a fully-loaded .22-calibre revolver tumbled out, Applegate said.

Ex-School Worker Receives Parole

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 8 — Judge Edward G. Biester in Quarter Sessions Court Friday granted a parole to Robert B. Connolly, 38, formerly a Woods School employee, who pleaded guilty to malicious prowling at night time. The defendant, who has been in jail here since July 2, was sentenced July 17 to serve not less than and month nor more than 23 months in the County Prison.

Judge Biester stipulated in his parole that Connolly refrain from drinking intoxicants and stay away from the Langhorne School's premises.

He was found hiding in a closet in one of the buildings after prowling through several other rooms and hallways.

How Parents Can Help Child To Succeed at Schoolwork

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

LET us consider the child returning to school to the second grade, fifth or twelfth. We want him to go hopefully. We want him to succeed. It's fine if he has already met his teacher or teachers or heard good things about them. He is fortunate if he has no anxieties hanging over him from last year's unpleasant experiences, such as low grades or even from failures.

If he lagged at school last year, don't remind him of it now or warn him what will happen if he doesn't study hard. If he volunteers discussion of the matter, assure him you will do anything to help him, even to finding some kind, patient teacher to tutor him a few times a week. Then keep your word.

In case your child has heard things about a certain teacher that have led him to suppose he won't like her or him, suggest that he try early to find out what this teacher expects and then to measure up to this expectation. You even might discover ways to build up in him a growing regard for, and faith in, this teacher during the early weeks and months of school. And sometimes a child in the early grades was so devoted to his teacher last year that he feels anxious about the new teacher.

We parents are on trial when the child at the beginning of school is sure he won't like a certain teacher. Negative suggestions related thereto can do untold harm, just as the right positive suggestion could be helpful.

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

We can hardly estimate the possibilities for us parents at cultivating a hopeful attitude in our children returning to school.

Of one thing we can be certain: Everything we say at home about the school and teachers and to other parents with children in the same school, can have good or ill effect on our own child's success at school. (My bulletin, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

Whereas most children returning to the same junior or senior high school had their schedule made out for them last May or June, some didn't. A lot of parents signed a note last spring approving the youth's course of study for this year without reading it or talking it over with the child. It's not too late now to do this and to take the matter seriously, even to confer with the vocational counselor or principal of the school.

Suppose you have an ambition to send your son or daughter to college. Do you know whether he is taking the kind of courses making college entrance possible, or if he isn't, why he is not? It's about the least we parents can do to show enough interest to know what our child's studies are to be this year.

Let us parents remember that the sky is the limit on the possibilities for us, in scores and scores of ways, to cultivate at home the right family climate for helping our child succeed at school.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Sixteen years old was Uzziah when he began to reign . . . as long as he sought the Lord, God made his prosper. — Chron. 25:3, 4.
But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction. Many people cannot stand success and prosperity.

PRICED OUT

It is apparent that the United States must attempt to devise a method of pricing its surplus farm production for sale abroad. Today other surplus producing countries cut under American prices and command the world market.

Egypt has just done that with cotton. Canada does it with wheat. Argentina with wheat and meat.

Foreign markets for farm production available to the U. S. are largely held through aid programs. That is, exports are subsidized or given away. Other nations sell their crops and receive money.

A wheat advisory board appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson has recommended a two-price system. Growers would receive 100 per cent of parity for wheat consumed domestically, roughly one-half the average crop. The remainder would find its level in the free world market. Each grower would have a quota assigning him his share of domestic production. Wheat in excess of that would be offered freely on the world market.

Conceivably, under such a program the United States would sell its surplus wheat.

There is little doubt that Congress will take a searching look at the present program of storing surpluses at the taxpayer's expense. But farmers have little fear that the solons will approve any substitute in an election year that would give the farmers less money.

Ridgway Decries Use of "The Brass"

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(INS)—When Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in his first news conference as Army Chief of Staff described the use of the term "the brass" by us trouble-some civilians as descriptive of our high army command, I lent a sympathetic ear.

The general's plaint seemed logical in view of all the armed forces propaganda I have been reading for the past ten years on the new army. This new army, I keep reading, is staffed by guaranteed loveable-type commissioned and non-commissioned officers in whom the milk of human kindness assays pure cream.

I have been sold lock, stock and burp gun on this new army. So I was just about to write the general and take the pledge in re "the brass."

But a day or two ago the mail man rang twice and left a letter from a man with whom I share a godson named Joe.

The last I had heard of Joe, and a nice godson never lived, he was graduated from college in June, married to the girl of his dreams and, ten days later, spending his honeymoon in the Army working his way up to be a second lieutenant in OCS.

The burden of the letter, however, was that Joe would be lucky to make corporal. Joe is a cum laude character and is doing just dandy in OCS, the letter continued, but Joe's bride is in dutch with the wife of the Commanding General and here has been hell to pay all down the line.

Joe's bride, named Sally and a real egg-head civilian, committed the unforgivable sin of declining an invitation to a tea binge given by the general's spouse.

Sally sent polite regrets because she had the enterprise to get herself a job in an industrial plant near the army post. It not only kept Sally from being lonely in a new community but, just as important, helped pay for groceries and gasoline.

Two nights later, Joe came home in a seething rage. He had spent the afternoon in the general's office while a subordinate dressed him down because Sally, preferring pay to play, had declined an invite from Mme. La General. No one, but no one refuses to drink tea with that redoubtable matron, Joe was informed.

Sally hastily wrote a second note to Mme. La General, saying she would be front and center on the appointed day. But, alas, the night before l'Affaire tea, Joe came home to find his bride semi-conscious. Out of his vast civilian ignorance, Joe called the first doctor available. The bride was rushed to the hospital and her burst appendix removed.

The bride's first words, as she came out from under the anaesthetic, were to beg someone—anyone—to call and explain to the general's wife. One of Sally's new-found friends made the call. It was quite obvious, from Mme. La General's conversation, that she thought the burst appendix either pre-fabricated or no excuse to miss her tea.

The general's wife checked the hospital and Joe was again on his way to the general's office. There a Colonel on the General's staff frigidly explained to him that he, Joe, had compounded Sally's felony (a burst appendix just before the tea brawl) by summoning a civilian doctor an by taking his wife to a civilian hospital in the emergency.

Of course, it was explained, Joe had the right to take her there. But it was not army custom.

So it has occurred to me that Gen. Ridgway might get further with his campaign to eliminate "the brass" from the language if he first eliminated the brass from the Army.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The second election in the four-year history of the Federal Republic of Germany is over. It is apparent that the anticipated 25,000,000 voters turned out, although final returns are not in.

By direct vote one-half of the 184 Bundestag, or Lower House, representatives have been selected. The remainder have been elected on a basis of proportional representation in each of the nine Länder, or States.

Each voter in West Germany cast two ballots, one for the candidate and one for the party list. Much as it is in the United States, voting requirements include citizenship and the 21-year-old age limit.

West Berlin, in this election, voted for 22 non-voting representatives to the Bundestag. Within 30 days members of the Bundestag, exclusive of the membership from West Berlin, will meet in Bonn to select a Chancellor.

Actually, the Bundestag has two methods available for selecting a Chancellor. It can approve the nomination submitted by the President of the Federal Republic or it can select its own. In either case a majority vote of 243 members is necessary to elect.

A Chancellor serves for four years, subject to replacement by a majority vote of the Bundestag or the dissolution of Parliament and a general election.

Throughout the West German political campaign the threat of Communist activities was uppermost in the minds of officials here, although the average West German, and especially the average West Berlin German, remained aloof from the threat, displaying a contempt for the Communists that was heartening to witness.

The election did not involve the office of the President of the Federal Republic, Dr. Theodor Heuss. He was named in 1949 for a five-year term by the Federal Assembly, which will not meet to select another President in special session until September of 1954.

The Upper House of the Parliament, called the Bundesrat, has 38 members. None of these were involved in the election. They are named by the governments of the states and can be recalled by the same bodies.

There will be no immediate change in the membership of the Bundesrat, since the (L) land, or state, elections are not held in conjunction with the general elections.

Northrhine-Westphalia will send the largest delegation to the new Bundestag. It elected on Sunday 56 members by direct vote, 72 more by indirect vote.

Bavaria is next with 47 direct vote members and 44 proportionate vote members.

Baden Württemberg elected 33 direct members, 34 indirect; Bremen three and three; Hamburg 8 and 9; Hesse 22 and 22; Lower Saxony 34 and 32; Rhineland-Palatinate 15 and 16; Schleswig-Holstein, 14 and 10.

Dr. Konrad Adenauer's party, the Christian Democratic Union which goes under the title of the Christian Social Union in Bavaria, was formed in 1945 by a group of Protestants and Catholics. Up to Sunday it had 151 members in the Bundestag and polled 31 per cent of the popular vote in 1949. Its membership ranges from left of center to right-wing. If it is voted back into power with the margin of new strength expected at the time Germans went to the polls Sunday the Federal Republic will be embarked on a course for the next four years advocating:

Reunification of Germany; equality for Germans in international affairs; closer ties with the West; opposition to the "neutralization" of Germany; support for the Schuman plan; internationalization of all European heavy industry and eventually European federation.

★ Your Birthday ★ by STELLA

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8

Born today, you are sympathetic and understanding with everyone with whom you come in contact.

You are always helping out others but in this fashion actually you often give yourself a boost up!

Those whom you help do not forget easily and may, come to your aid, quite unexpectedly, when you need it most.

You are a devoted and loyal friend and while you may have many acquaintances, your circle of close associates will be highly selective.

You have considerable of the daydreamer in your makeup and are not always as pushing and aggressive in getting what you want as you should be.

You sit back and "wait for something to turn up," when you would get further if you went out and made things happen!

You believe that if you do your work efficiently and conscientiously, you are bound to receive your proper reward eventually.

Sometimes that doesn't happen in a highly competitive society unless you do a little blowing of your own horn. Let people know you're good!

Fond of travel and literature, you would be happiest if you found your work in these or related fields.

You have excellent powers of analysis if only you will not let them be swayed by your personal likes and dislikes which are often very strong.

You are spiritual rather than religious in the conventional sense. You believe in doing the right thing according to your precepts even if you lose money, for then you have a feeling of "rightness" within your own soul.

Actually you do not care too much for money, as money, although you do enjoy the pleasures that money can buy. But you can be satisfied with comparatively little and your talents will always bring you a comfortable income. Highly attractive to members of the opposite sex, you would be most content if you wed at an early age.

But make sure that you select someone whose temperament is suited to your own.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—A fine evening for enjoying your friends. Visit them or invite them to your home. Seek pleasure.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—This is one of your good days. Decide what you want to do and then proceed to do it. Have fun!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—The other fellow could be smarter than you think he is! Be cautious when making any business decisions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—If you are bored with routine, then use your innate ingenuity to develop a new technique in your work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—There are poor aspects today in matters of business and finance, so be especially cautious of any "deal."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Don't let petty troubles sidetrack you. Keep your eyes on your main objective and persevere.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Not the time to depend upon others. You must know what you want and then go out and get it yourself.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20)—Influences are somewhat irregular today so that a setback to your plans is not impossible. Make the best of it.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—You can surmount an obstacle if you just take time to figure out a good way. Let your brain do the work.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Very often you can learn something by an exchange of ideas. For once, listen to what the other fellow has to say.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Don't let rumor sway your opinions. First, find out the facts. They might not be at all as represented.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—If perplexed, seek expert advice and you will be able to solve your personal problems more easily.

Mercury in August Higher Than in '52

The minimum temperature for August in this area was seven degrees higher than for the same month last year. Low last year was 51, and this year, 58. The "high" last month was 10 degrees above that for August a year ago, 101 compared to 91. For comparison of average temperature that for 1952 was 74, and for this year, 76.

There was but 2.31 inches of rainfall last month, an exceedingly dry month compared to last year when precipitation measured 8.54 inches. Clear days in the month just ended totalled 22; partly cloudy, two; cloudy days, seven; and those when precipitation was .01 inch or more, seven.

"Be of One Mind in Christ"
"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were ye baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius; Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas; besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel; not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect." I Cor. 1:10-17.

Lemon Juice Is a Cosmetic

Strained lemon juice is a helpful bleaching lotion. Dip a fluted cotton square into the juice and apply it to face and neck.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IN autumn, the beauty shops are filled with customers who would be rid of their tans. It's fine to be golden girls when the thermometer mounts. When the leaves begin to turn, there is a desire to regain peaches-and-cream complexion again.

Some day, perhaps women will be through with this sun worshipping mania. It's fine in moderation. Excessive tanning, however, can have a deplorable effect upon the fine texture of the skin.

Start Right Now

If you would be creamy again and have no time for sessions at the beauty marts, start on a series of treatments right now. It takes a great deal of time to remove those sun-kissed skin cells.

Use hot applications freely, especially after you wash your face. They soften the flesh. Then, get out your massage cream and fairly force it into the flesh by light tapping movements. The more friction, the better. Don't forget to include your neck, back as well as front.

Bleaching Lotion

Once a week, forego the creaming and use a bleaching lotion instead. Strained lemon juice is an old time favorite, and just as good as it ever was. Put some in a saucer, add an ice cube. Then, dip in a pledget of cotton and slap it over neck and face briskly. Let the lemon juice dry on. If the flesh feels drawn, put on a little cream.

There are cosmetics to be had that include mild bleaching elements. If you use one, follow directions carefully. Everything depends upon the way they are used.

If you stay out of the sun, your tan will fade of its own accord. Be sure your make-up keeps pace with the fading. Buy a few small boxes of powder in different shades, so you'll be able to mix progressively lighter ones for your skin as needed.

SPORTS

IN THE LOCAL FIELD

Franklin, Auto Boys To Battle in Playoffs

The first game of the final playoffs of the Bristol Softball League will be played this evening on Memorial Park field. The contesting teams are Franklin A. C. and Auto Boys. Game will begin at 5:45 o'clock.

Franklin earned its right to the playoffs by winning the regular season crown. Auto Boys came up the hard way, first eliminating Kaiser Metal in a "sudden death" quarter-final and then winning two straight in the semi-final series from Fifth Ward Sporting Club, actually dethroning the 1952 champions.

It is most likely that "Chick" Stansky will do the throwing for Franklin with Barney Ludwig handling his hooks. Stansky pitched most of the Franklin games during the season and has an enviable record.

The reliable "Bill" Wigham will hurl for Auto Boy. It was Wigham's mound work that carried the department store boys to victories in the quarter-finals and semi-finals. He also helped matters by his stick-work at the plate.

Behind the plate for the boys of "Jim" Capecci will be Johnny Frank. Chuck Klein will be on first;

Joe Sallustio, second; Tony Cauti short; and Ray Pierandozzi, third. The latter has moved to New Burns wick but has assured Manager Capecci of being here in time for the game. In the outfield will be Freddie Costantino, Horace Saxton and Charlie Uhlard.

The remainder of Manager Bert Barbetta's Franklin team will see Bob Lattanzi perched on first with Sonny Field at second. Tony Palumbo will be at third and Toby Oriola short. The outergarden will be composed of Manager Barbetta, Joe Ciaella, and Fred Ciotti.

The second game of the series is scheduled for tomorrow evening.

Bensalem G. O. P. Hears Candidates

EDDINGTON, Sept. 8 — Despite the heat, Bensalem Republican Club had a spirited meeting at Otrinski Hall. Several candidates for the November election spoke. Robert O'Neal, candidate for supervisor, called to attention of the club things that need to be done in the township, and his desire, if elected, to fulfill all necessary proposals.

Samuel Mudie, Sr., candidate for school director, brought out several points of interest to the voters. Harry Carter, also a candidate for school board, in his speech found the solution "to bring to all voters of the township the true picture of Bensalem township tax structure." Accordingly a committee was appointed, headed by Richard Laros, a student at University of Pennsylvania, Phila., to enlighten the taxpayers.

There was discussion on the school budget and local taxes. Street lighting, police protection, and other expenses were also brought to attention of club members.

Because so many people are still vacationing, the charter was held open, also the election of permanent officers.

Truck Blocks Sight, Two Drivers Crash

EMILIE, Sept. 8—A truck which made a left turn from Old Route 13 to Route 413 and shielded one car from the view of the driver of another, caused a collision yesterday morning in which the two cars suffered moderate damage.

A car operated by Robert Hill, 35, of 27 E. Seventh street, Florence, N. J., stopped for the stop sign on Route 413. The other vehicle, travelling east on Route 13 was operated by Bernard P. Heffernan, 41, of Newportville road and Ritter avenue, Fergusonville.

Hill's vision of Heffernan's vehicle was obstructed by the truck. As he pulled away from the stop sign, Hill ran into Heffernan's car. There was no injuries reported by Patrolman Robert Lawrence, of the Bristol Township police, who investigated the accident.

Penn's proprietary rights were withdrawn, Oct. 20, 1692 (restored Aug. 20, 1694).
